AN UPDATE ON CONSTRUCTION

Hutchinson Builders continues to make strong progress on the construction program at The Langston, with recent months seeing the three towers' above-ground levels appear for the first time.

By the end of October 2020, The Langston's towers are expected to reach Level 13 (of 29 levels), Level 11 (of 24 levels) and Level 8 (of 19 levels) respectively. In addition, façade installation, which consists of continuous glass panels surrounding each tower, is continuing across the entire project. These panels will help create The Langston's distinctive look, with bronze-glazed frames that accentuate each tower's curvilinear design.

Throughout the coming months, the internal fitout will continue, with installation of electrical and plumbing services, tiling and other materials ongoing. In addition, our first prototype apartment is expected to open very shortly in Langston Tower, allowing the public to receive its first glimpse of The Langston's stunning apartments.

With completion on track for late 2021, The Langston is well on its way to becoming the centrepiece of the future Epping town centre.

HAVE YOU SEEN OUR NEW DISPLAY SUITE?

As you may have seen, our purpose-built display suite has now been removed from site, to make way for the next stage of construction at The Langston.

But we are not far away – our display suite has moved just next door into newly fitted-out premises at 24 Langston Place, Epping (the former JR Hunt Real Estate office).

With a 3.6-metre-wide video screen featuring prominently at the front of the display suite, there have already been plenty of pedestrians stopping by to watch our construction updates and other project videos, as the Epping community gets to know more about The Langston.

Conveniently positioned at the southern end of the Langston Place retail strip, the new display suite will ultimately adjoin The Langston's future retail precinct, which is rapidly taking shape.

Meanwhile, the exterior of the display suite has also had a makeover, thanks to the latest in a series of mural artworks from Epping born and bred artist, Andrew Dennis, who brought the façade of the building back to life in early August 2020.

Next time you are passing by 24 Langston Place, feel free to stop in and say hi to our team – we would love to have a chat.

NEW BIKE PATH SET TO PROVIDE MISSING LINK FOR CYCLISTS

City of Parramatta Council is proposing a shared path on the southern side of Epping Road, which is designed to complete the cycling connection between Macquarie Park and Carlingford via Epping.

The three-metre-wide path, between Pembroke Street and Blaxland Road, will be shared by pedestrians and cyclists and is due to be constructed by Council in 2021.

The plan will also include new, widened kerb ramps to improve bicycle access, retention of mature trees, and some new street trees for shade and amenity.

For future residents of The Langston, the path provides yet another convenient transport option for people travelling to and from Epping.

To find out more, go to the City of Parramatta website, click on the 'Council' tab, followed by 'News', then 'On Exhibition'. Alternatively, hard copies of the plan are available from Epping Library.

IT'S ALL ABOUT THE BEES!

With bee populations around the world under threat, we would like to highlight the ongoing important work of our construction contractors, Hutchinson Builders, in seeking to preserve the future of bees in Australia.

Hutchies is the only company in the country that actively promotes the establishment of urban bee hives on a national scale, with many Hutchies projects integrating these essential bee sanctuaries. By tackling this important environmental and social issue head on, the Hutchies urban hive program creates awareness of the importance of bees, pollination and the threat that declining bee populations pose on society.

Hutchies also offers the honey produced by their bees as gifts to employees and clients, or as donations to causes, including to event attendees and display suite visitors at The Langston.

What's more, we are proud to say that Shaun Garvey, one of The Langston's valued Construction Liaison Committee members, as well as an avid apiarist and member of the Parramatta Amateur Beekeepers Association, is now actively assisting Hutchies to help establish more urban bee hives on its Sydney projects.

Thank you to Shaun and Hutchies for your efforts!
